Letter of Transmittal

His Excellency, William B. Umstead
Governor of North Carolina
Executive Chamber
Raleigh, North Carolina
Dear Sir:

The Board of Directors of the North Carolina School for the Deaf have the honor to transmit to your Excellency their Thirty-First biennial report, and respectfully ask your careful examination of the condition, progress and needs of the School.

The members of the Board wish to express their appreciation for your active interest in, and your courteous consideration of, the needs of the School.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Frank P. Tate

Letter of Transmittal

Members of the Board:

It is my duty and privilege to submit to you a report on the operation of the School for the years 1950-52. There are two significant differences between this report and previous reports.

First, we have tried to submit reports that state conditions and needs as clearly as possible. These are arranged around the following headings: (1) Instruction, (2) Household Life, (3) Social Life and (4) Finance.

A second difference will be noticed in the inclusion of a section of pictures of School Life. We feel that these pictures will give every body a better understanding of the work of the School.

Respectfully submitted,

Carl E. Rankin, Superintendent

OUR SYMBOL OF LIFE: THE CLOCK TOWER
*has been there since the day the School opened on
"Vine Hill"; its clock faces point to the next thing to be done; its beautiful symetry is a memory that goes with us wherever we go.*

Tower, straight and tall
Our symbol be
Of lives strong, straight and true
That others may see.

General Information

The North Carolina School for the Deaf is a free public school operated for the benefit of those children who are handicapped by loss of hearing. The children are admitted to the school under the provisions of State Law.

It is the aim of the School to attain the following objectives:

1. To seek in every way to help each deaf child become a well-rounded individual who fits into American community life; a person alert to life about him, informed about local, national and world affairs, capable of independent thinking and action with regard to these, socially adjusted in home and community, reverent toward those things held sacred by us as a people, and loyal to State and nation.
2. To so equip each child vocationally that he or she may be economically a self-sustaining person; to develop as far as possible those skills which will enable the individual to secure and hold the best possible job commensurate with his abilities.
3. To develop in each child, as far as possible, a strong healthy body, intelligent attitudes toward health and wholesome health habits.
4. To secure for each child, as far as possible, a formal education through twelve grades on the same level as other public schools in the State.
5. To develop in each child full capacity in speech-reading.
6. To develop in each child, as far as possible, capacity to use normal speech.

If children are physically strong and well developed, they should enter school as early as possible; that is, as soon as he or she appears to be sufficiently matured to live under the conditions of dormitory life at the School. We have a compulsory attendance law in North Carolina. General Statutes, 115-130, which require that the parents of every "deaf child" of school age place it in school. The interpretation put upon the term "deaf child" for purpose of determining whether a child shall be admitted to this School or shall remain in attendance at a hearing school is whether, in the opinion of his teachers in the hearing school, he can do satisfactory work there; if his work is unsatisfactory, and the cause appears to be loss of hearing, the principal of this hearing school may dismiss him from that school; the parents of such a child must then, under Law, enter him in the School immediately.

The only charge is a school fee of $14.00 for books, clothing repair and other incidental expenses. It is, of course, necessary for parents to pay bus or railroad fare to and from the School and to clothe children properly. It is of greatest importance that children have warm clothing. Experience with the problem of clothing has led us to prepare a suggested list which may be had upon request.

If parents of deaf children are in indigent circumstances and not able to pay travel expenses to and from the School, or to clothe their children properly, they may apply for aid by so stating on oath before a Magistrate; the Court may then order the County Department of Public Welfare to assume the expenses. Parents should in all cases notify the Superintendent when unable to undertake the expense of sending their children to this School.

Superintendent's Report

EDUCATIONAL WORK

The educational program of the North Carolina School for the Deaf is the heart and substance of the institution; on its effectiveness rests almost entirely its justification as an institution. Teachers must be specially trained for this work. Our school program, while it parallels that of the public schools in North Carolina generally, must of necessity be modified to meet the needs of acoustically handicapped children. The School must do a very specialized educational job for its children; their handicap affects more directly their social adjustment than it does any other phase of their lives.

Education of children handicapped by loss of hearing began in North Carolina more than one hundred years ago, to be exact, in 1845. Since that time, the profession itself has passed through many significant changes, and has made many improvements. For instance, in 1845 when work was begun in North Carolina, instruction was conducted entirely by means of the sign language; today, the North Carolina School for the Deaf is an Oral School where children are taught primarily by means of speech and lip-reading. Within very recent years the use of electrical stimulation has revolutionized instruction in schools of this type throughout the United States. Here the aim is to utilize whatever residual hearing the child may possess as one of the tools in his education.

With this brief general statement with respect to the educational work in the North Carolina School for the Deaf, the following pages are concerned primarily with a description of the life and activities of the school during the biennium 1950-52.

The session of 1950-51 opened with an enrollment of 387 children as compared with 355 in 1948-49 and 377 in 1949-50; the 1951-52 enrollment was 408. The following table shows the increases in each year over the past four years:

Year	Enrollment	Increase
1947-48	351
1948-49	355	4
1949-50	377	22
1950-51	387	10
1951-52	408	21
Total increase over 4 years		57

This steady increase has stepped up the classroom load and has necessitated, among other things, the addition of staff.

Money was provided by the 1951 Legislature for a new Pre-School Unit consisting of complete living arrangements and classroom space for 120 children. When this unit is completed it is anticipated that the over-crowded conditions in classrooms will be alleviated. It should be noted that not only are classrooms crowded, but dormitories are even more crowded. The opening of the Pre-School Unit will relieve this dormitory overcrowding, and will, we feel, reflect itself in better school work.

Our auditory training has made improvement along two lines. We are happy to report that so far as individual hearing aids are concerned we are rapidly approaching the place where every child who has usable residual hearing uses one; these have been furnished by parents, or Civic groups with genuine interest in our children. Gradually, we are equipping our classrooms, particularly those in the lower grades, with group hearing aids. These powerful instruments, operated on 110 volts current, are capable of stepping up the hearing capacity of a child to a far greater degree than any individual hearing aid. We hope to see the time in the not too far distant future when all our classrooms, especially on the primary level, will be making continuous use of group hearing aids. Looking to this goal, we are requesting sufficient money in connection with the Pre-School Unit to equip all these classrooms with group hearing aids.

We are particularly proud of our two reading rooms or libraries connected with our two classroom buildings. These libraries are filled with books that children read. One of the major projects among our teachers for the past several years has been to stimulate reading in every possible way. An important addition to our libraries in recent years is our supply of visual education materials in the form of slides, film strips, and films. This addition is particularly important, due to the fact that, for these children with loss of hearing, we have added a new visual approach to learning.

The new Vocational Building has added materially to our Vocational Program. We now have physical facilities as well as teachers to make this a much improved phase of our work. The addition of shoe repair and leather work to our vocational program is worthy of note, because it offers the opportunity for training and employment to those boys who are slow learners and who cannot acquire facility in such lines as printing and cabinet making.

For a number of years schools for the deaf throughout the United States have experienced considerable difficulty in finding enough teachers of the deaf. Training centers have not been able to supply enough teachers to meet the demand. For that reason, we at the North Carolina School for the Deaf have been making special effort to improve our teacher training course, and we anticipate that when this course is accredited by one or more colleges in our vicinity, we shall be able to meet the needs for additions to our teaching staff.

HOUSEHOLD LIFE

In 1938-39 our dormitories were fire-proofed, and at that time, because of the lack of funds, it was necessary to so arrange the dormitories to take care of group of 15 to 25 children in a single dormitory room. It was realized at the time that this was a poor arrangement, chiefly because it removed from the child a homelike atmosphere in which to live for ten months of the year. Over the years attempt after attempt has been made to secure funds to divide these large units into smaller ones to take care of from two to four children to a room. The 1949 Legislature provided the money for doing this at our Main Building, and living there is much improved. Our Goodwin Hall Building needs the same renovation job done which has proven so effective at Main Building. Our new Pre-School Unit where the 5, 6 and 7 year old children will live will provide for 5 children to live in a dormitory room.

As designed, our Main Building dormitory provides at the outside for about 210 children, and Goodwin Hall about 120, or a maximum capacity for the two buildings of 330 children. With our peak enrollment of 408 it can be readily seen that Main Building and Goodwin Hall are terribly over-crowded. We hope this condition can be relieved when the new Pre-School Unit housing 120 children is put into operation.

An important part of our household life is our dietary department. It is the aim of this department "to serve both students and staff a well-balanced diet that will come within the budget, and to serve it in an appetizing manner and in a pleasant atmosphere." Because of the substantial increases granted for food in recent years by the Legislature it has been possible to serve a wider variety of wholesome food. These children, it should be noted, have nothing wrong with them whatever except a loss of hearing; they possess the ordinary child's capacity to play hard and eat prodigiously. Our head dietitian and her assistant are both fully trained for their jobs. One of the finest things they have done is to gradually build a fine program of training to help boys and girls overcome food prejudices and to learn to eat a greater variety of good foods.

Our Farm has been able to furnish for our dining room an adequate supply of pork, and one-quart of liquid milk per day per child. In addition, a partial supply of beef has been made available for table use through the culling from our dairy herd.

HEALTH

Our School infirmary is under the general supervision of Dr. John Ervin, and in addition to Dr. Ervin, Dr. Ralph Coffey is employed on a part-time basis as school Dentist. The School is also fortunate in having Dr. B. W. Armstrong of the Charlotte Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital as consulting Otologist. Dr. Armstrong examines the children early each school year, and follows through with treatments for certain individual cases. The School maintains an Infirmary staff of one Registered Nurse and one Practical Nurse. All cases of sickness are sent to the infirmary where they are cared for under the direction of the School Physician. Something of the nature of medical care given can be gained from the following statistical report of the School Physician:

All parents receive the following notice regarding medical care in a general letter sent to all parents each school year:

We have a school infirmary and care for minor sickness; there is no extra charge to parents for this service. Prescriptions, or specially prescribed drugs for any child must be paid for by parents. If it is necessary to send a child to the town hospital, parents must take care of his bills while there. In the future bills incurred because of injuries sustained while playing football or other games which necessitate special hospital, doctor's care or special drugs, etc., must be paid by parents. If you do not wish your child to play certain games, please advise the Superintendent in writing, otherwise he will not be barred from any school play or games.

If parents are financially unable to have all necessary dental work done for the child, or to have eyes examined and glasses fitted, they should contact the County Health Department and ask for aid. Keep in mind we have neither funds or facilities to have dental work done here or glasses fitted. Teeth must be in good condition and a certificate so stating sent to us before children come to school. Glasses must be fitted if needed and a certificate from examiner sent to us before children come to school.

PLANT OPERATION

Our plant is, of course, maintained and operated with money appropriated directly by the Legislature for that purpose. When money at present provided by the 1949-51 legislature has been used for anticipated improvement and expansion of facilities, we feel, our plant will be in reasonably good operating condition. It will be necessary to ask the 1953 Legislature for funds for certain improvements to put our operation on a more economic footing. One of the very finest recent improvements to our plant has been the addition of new stokers for our boilers, and the repair and conditioning of our boiler system; we are already realizing a saving in coal under the new operation.

Increased amounts provided by the 1951 Legislature, particularly for maintenance, have enabled us to do much needed painting and other maintenance jobs.

FARM

A survey of our farm made through a Budget Bureau specialist, in cooperation with State College, resulted in a proposal for a major change in farm operation. Under the new plan, all row crops have been discontinued, and farm operation set up for the production of milk and pork. Indications are that this new type of operation is going to be far more economical than the old type of farm operation.

GRADUATION: Every year at Commencement time a fine group of the School and go out to take up life in some of the most thrilling things about this for all of us who have worked with them is that, with few exceptions, they take up life in their communities as useful, self-supporting, and happy citizens of our great state.

group of N. C. School for the Deaf boys and girls complete the North Carolina community. One of the most thrilling them is that, with few exceptions, they take up life in and happy citizens of our great state.

TESTING HEARING: Testing the hearing of acoustically handicapped children is a part of the regular school program. When a child is found to have usable hearing he is given an opportunity to use that hearing in a classroom equipped with group hearing aids. He is also fitted at the earliest practicable date with an individual hearing aid.

METHODS OF INSTRUCTION: The utilization of residual hearing is a basic part of the school program. Some children, of course, have too great a hearing loss to profit by the use of hearing aids, and other standard procedures for the education of the deaf are used with these children.

GIRLS' VOCATIONAL TRAINING: The North Carolina School for the Deaf does not confine its Vocational Training to boys. Many girls are trained for and enter into industry in a variety of occupations. These girls are placed in employment by Mr. J. M. Vestal, Chief, Bureau of Labor for the Deaf, Raleigh. In the past several years their attainments are reflected in reports of "fat pay-envelopes" that surprise us.

HOMEMAKING: Our girls, of course, marry and build homes, fine homes. During their school years every effort is made to give them experiences which will fit them to be best possible home-makers. Just completed and now in use is our new Homemaking building with modern equipment for the 7-areas of homemaking.

BOYS' VOCATIONAL TRAINING: Boys' Vocational Training covers a number of useful, well paying, occupations—two of these are Printing and Metals Work.

CABINET MAKING: The School is in one of the greatest centers of furniture making in the whole South and for this reason many boys seek employment in the furniture industry. The School has an excellently equipped shop for giving boys training in this industry.

*Student Body - Godwin Hall
Primary School*

CAMPUS LIFE: Through the Student Council, students are given an opportunity to participate in democratic living. At times this democratic living takes the form of "shouting for our sides."

HONOR SOCIETIES: Boys and girls have their separate Honor Societies. These Societies are under a Faculty Committee. The standards are so high that it is difficult for a student to become a member, and after becoming a member, he or she, must live up to the highest possible standard in achievement and personality to retain membership.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION The boys and girls in the North Carolina School for the Deaf are given both classroom instruction in Health and Physical Education and actual participation in a wide variety of sports.

HOME LIFE: One of the greatest things that has happened to us at the North Carolina School for the Deaf is the renovation and improvement at our Main Building which provides for our older boys and girls to be housed in groups of two to four to a room, and for an adequate and comfortable lounge room on each floor attractively furnished and decorated, and equipped with a television set for a leisure-time enjoyment.

DRAMATICS—INDIAN LIFE: Here a Boy Scout is demonstrating an Indian Ceremonial Dance. Through this kind of activity in Scouting boys gain knowledge of Indian Life, because they must first be thoroughly familiar with the history in connection with such productions.

BOY SCOUTS: The N. C. School for the Deaf Troop, Number 3, has always been a large and outstanding troop in the Piedmont Boy Scout Council; the fact that its members and Scoutmaster are deaf has not lessened in any way their achievement. It has always been one of the most active organizations on the campus. Many deaf boys have achieved the coveted Eagle Rank. Though this organization boys learn continuously to take care of themselves and be of assistance to others. The whole aim of this organization is the building of strong character which is almost daily reflected in its wholesome influence while boys are in school.

GIRL SCOUTS: Through the Girl Scout Program, girls continuously learn how to take care of themselves at home and abroad, and how to be of greater service to the school and community. They enjoy learning such things as first-aid, all kinds of safety-measures, swimming and life-saving, home-making, dramatics, arts and crafts, cookery, hiking and camping.

THE CHRISTMAS PAGEANT: For many years our students have put on the Story of the Birth of Jesus at the Christmas season. The natural aptitude of these students for pantomime makes this always a beautiful and dramatic production.

CHRISTMAS TIME: The Christmas season, of course, brings the Christmas tree and Santa Claus and all the fun that goes with the Season the world over.

DRIVER EDUCATION: Deaf people can and do drive automobiles. Their records on the highways is quite above that for citizens generally. In order to insure that young people going from school will know how to properly handle a car, a course in driver education is conducted for those leaving school.
